SURVEYING THE POTOMAC. A Civil Engineer at Work on Its Tides

Depth, and Bottom. The attention of a reporter of THE RE PUBLICAN, who was down near the Analostan boat-house the other day, was attracted by the movements of several small skiffs containing men. The boats were rowed across the river, and then near the bank, and the occupants, with lines and in-struments, seemed to be taking measurements. Naturally the reporter's curiosity was aroused to know what was going on, and so he bailed one of the boats. It was quite near the shore, and as it was rowed up the features of the well-known civil rincer, Mr. William Banman, were recognized. You are not fishing, are you?" was the question asked, with a laugh.

"No, indeed," was the reply, as the boat grounded ou the shore and Mr. Bauman alighted.
"I am making a physical survey of the river."

"I whose direction?"

"I am working it under the immediate supervision of Colonel S. T. Abert, of the United States Engineer Corps, and chiefof the Bureau for the Improvement of Rivers and Harbors. He is having the survey made, and will, I suppose, submit the results upon which a plan will be based to the special committee of the Schate." What does your survey embrace?"

provement of Rivers and Harbors. He is having the survey made, and will, I suppose, submit the results upon which a plan will be based to the special committee of the Senate."

"His does your survey embrace?"

"It includes the entire river from the canal outlet to Giosbore. Foliat, and then up the Eastern Branch to Augeostia. The object is to accomplish what has never been done before, and that is, make a physical survey of the river. A survey of this character embraces anch facts as the tides, the death of the river, the nature of the bottom, &c. We have now been a month and a haif in making this survey, and I hope to be able to complete it by the end of November."

"What is detail is the work proposed to be accomplished by your survey?"

"It will comprise the determination of the high and low water sections of the river at a number of stations—about thirty-five; the observation of the rate of flow and eith of the lide from which the mid area is to be determined—that is, the place of the centre of gravity—and

THE ANS OF THE STREAM.

Then measurements of the discharge of the rivers are to be taken, and dynamic charts, profiles, and cross-sections are to be prepared, with due consideration of the freshets of 1877 and 1881. In other works, we are to secure a full knowledge of the river, in order to intelligently determine whatsiens ought to be taken to improve the river front and the flats."

"Then flats That is an interesting question. What will be done with the flats?"

"That will contrely reclaimed and filled in. I have been compelled to work near them during the past month, and my opinion is that they are perfect pest-spots. They have made me sick, and it is a wonder that they do not cause more sickness."

"How about the river front and the lowlands there?"

"How about the river front and the lowlands."

there?"
"Well, you know, I am only making a survey to furnish the facts for the adoption of some plan. But it seems to me that it is PERFECTLY PEASIBLE TO BUILD A SEA WALL.

But it seems to me that it is

FERFECTLY FERSIBLE TO BUILD A SEA WALL
along from Observatory Point and to recisim the land between the wail and the presentshore of the river. This could be an extension of the wail, and if thought advisable the top of the sea wail could be used for a carriage drive. Then, further down, the causeway of the Long Bridge could be removed and the great came of the deposit of the mass of matter called the flats would be remedied."
"Would there be any change in the Georgetown and Washington channels"
"The Washington channel would be deepened and the sides made more regular, especially along the wharves, which have been built with no regular plan. This might bring up the question now in dispute as to the wharf rights. But all this is of course mere conjecture. All I know is that a plan can be adopted which will remove the flats, substitute beautini parks and drives, improve the navigation of the river, and make it an attraction
and ornament to the city."
"What do you suppose all this will cost?"
"I told General Runsom, the chairman of the special committee, that the plan would probably involve the expenditure of between two and three millions. He replied: 'it don't make any difference what the coad will be; go on and do the work. That is a matter for Congress to decide."

Mr. Bauman said that he thought he would be able to get his report in readiness early in Decembor, and then the entire - after could be submitted to Congress early in the session.

New York's Water Supply-His Opinion of the Irish People.

Mr. John Walter, proprietor of the London Times and member of Parliament, in an interview in Albany, referring to the short water supply in New York, said: "The time will come, I think, when New York will draw its water supply from Lake Eric. I make this statement in all seriousness. Lake Eric is, I should say, about four hundred feet above the New York level, and a water supply from the lake is perfectly feasible—just as feasible, i fact, as an Erie canal. Amusements Last Night, The persistence of his admirers had gradually prepared the way for the verdict which the Washington public agreed upon in Mr. Keene's favor last night. The house was filled from the pit to the dome literally with a throng composed havor last night. The house was filled from the pit to the dome literally with a throng composed in part of the tragedian's old friends, who came with nervous hope to encourage him, and strangers of a genuinely skeptical frame of mind. The friends were overjoyed and the skeptics overwhelmed, and there was no difference as to the conclusion. If Tom Keene is not a great tragedian America never produced one. Comparatively, his Richard III, produces a surprise like that of one who, wandering through a gallery of faded lithographs and tedious mediocrity, suddening comes upon an old master, glowing with immortal color and breathing in every stroke of the brush of diving gonius. The impersonation has certainly never been equaled in Washington within the memory at least of our middle-aged play-goers. We are ready to accept the praises so liberally bestowed during the past year by the Western press upon Mr. Keene and to re-echo it. In the support Miss Johnston, Mrs. Allen, and Messrs. Learock and Lloyd were especially good. "Richellen" tonight.

General Walker's Resignation." The Superintendent of the Census, General Walker, tendered his resignation to the President yesterday. He has accepted the presidency of the Institute of Technology in Boston, and was to have assumed the duties of this position October 1. The retiring president, Professor Rogers, resigned at the end of last year, and since that time the Institution has been without a head. General Walker said last evening that he intended resigning before, but now sffairs were in such a shape that he could leave the census work without injury. He had already propared most of the reports, and it was the understanding that he would prepare the remainder. Who his successor would be he did not know, but the chief clerk, Colonel Scaton, would remain in charge. "Do you think that there will be any difficulty about getting the deficiency appropriation?" "I don't think that there will be. I have not beard of a single member of Congress that was opposed to it. If the deficiency had not been incurred the census work would have been put back eight or ten months."

General Walker states that he does not know exactly when he will leave for Boston, but he expects as soon as he can arrange his business to . The Children's Hospital. The president of the Children's Hospital, Mr. Samuel V. Niles, has submitted a repor covering a period of ten months, from December 1 1880, to October 1, 1881, from which it appears that the total number of children receiving the benefits of the hospital was 171. In the dispensary there were treated 578 patients. There were compounded 6,160 prescriptions and 32 surgical operations were performed. The treasurer's report shows total receipts, 56,473.07; total disbursements, 56,371.50, leaving cash on hand October 1, 1881, 5102.57, which, with the balance of the congressional appropriation of 55,000 for the fiscal year criding June 30, 1882, 58,750, makes a total of 53,852.57 for the maintenance and support of the hospital for the eight months ending June 30, 1882. The board ask the Commissioners to include in their annual estimates 55,000 for the maintenance of this hospital, 1880, to October 1, 1881, from which it appears that

Washington Market Company.

SALES OF STALLS

CENTRE MARKET,

OCTOBER 22, at 11 o'clock.

These sales are required to be made by act of Con

let to the highest bidder at auction for a term of one or more years. Sales were made in 1872 for two years; in 1874 sales for three years more were advertised, brought by the marketmen, which has lasted seven ears and prevented a compliance with the law and deprived the Company of its rights during that time. The Supreme Court of the United States decided every question against the marketmen and in favor of the Company, and the anction sales must now be nade. The rentals of the stalls have been reduced by the Company so that after the discount of 20 per cent, made to purchasers at auction for prompt pay-ment in advance, they will be monthly, on Butchers' ngle stalls, $9.60, or $14.49 on a half section of a stall and a baif, or $28.90 on a full section of three stalls; n Bacon stalls, $7.29, or $10.50, or $21.60; on Butter stalls, $5.40, or $8.10, or $16.30; on Huckstern' stalls (o. quivalent stalls), in Seventh and Ninth street buildings, $5.60, or $8.40, or $16.80; in B street buildngs, $4.20, or $5.30, or $12.00; on Fish stalls, $4.80, or $7.20, or $14.40. The auction sales will be of the right to occupy, if the purchaser chooses, for eighteen (18) years, until January 1, 1930. The Act of Congress provides that there hall be no by-bidding on the part of the Company, directly or indirectly, but that a minimum rate of bids may be fixed, below which bids will not be received. The minimums will be, on a Butcher's single stall, $150, or $225 on a half-section, or $100 on a full section of three stalls; on Bacon and Butter stalls, $120. or $180, or $360; on Hucksters' or equivalent stalls, $100, or $150, or $300; on Fish stalls, $200. This bonus will be payable $25 cash down; 20 per cent., crediting the $25, on taking possession, and balance in eight 10 per-cent, installments, payable semi-annually, with per cent, interest, No promissory notes or sureties for the bonus will be required, but the stalls will be the sole security; and if the marketman chooses to quit his stalls at any time he may do so, and any bous certificate not then due will be canceled and giver up to him. The above bonus will, during the eighten years, increase only 70 cents per month, the amount paid for a single Butcher's stall; for a Bacon or Butter stall, 56 cents; for a Huckster's or equiva-lent stall, 46 cents; for a Fish stall, 55 cents. The sales will be as in 1872, of the first, second, and subse quent choices of stalls in the several classes; and the highest bidder above the minimum for a choice can select any stalls in the market of his class not previously sold or selected. Any combination or conspir-acy or threats to prevent a free and full sale, or to deter any person from bidding or from selecting or occupying stalls, will be promptly prosecuted according to law. Full printed terms of sale, classification of stalls by numbers, forms of agreement of lease and bonus certificates and Market Regulations may be obtained on application at the Company's Office.

P. S. SMITH, Clerk Washington Market Company. OCTOBER 19, 1881.

AT THE ABOVE SALE WAS ADJOURNED until SATURDAY, October 22, at 11 o'clock a. m., and the next adjournment will be to THURSDAY, November 2, at 12 o'clock noon, and subsequent adjournments will be to succeeding THURSDAYS, and sales on SATURDAY will be discontinued, that being an inconventent day for marketinen.
